EXAMINER COMMENT

Applicant's election without traverse of Group III in the reply filed on 12 March 2004 is acknowledged. However, a new 'Restriction/Election Requirement' is set forth below, wherein the previous 'Restriction/Election Requirement' (mailed 09 February 2004) inadvertently placed claims 4-33 (dependent on claim 1) with claim 3. Therefore, in order to correct the record of prosecution and to provide Applicant with ample opportunity to review and elect an invention the below 'Restriction/Election Requirement' (regrouped) is provided for below. An attempt was made to notify Applicant's Representative, Darla G. Yoerg, of the new 'Restriction/Election Requirement' on 24 June 2004, however, Ms. Yoerg was out of the office.

Restriction/Election Requirement

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. § 121:

- I. Claims 1 and 4-33, drawn to a method of compiling a function gene profile of a donor organism, classified in class 702, subclass 19.
- II. Claim 2, drawn to a method of identifying the sequence of an antigen of a pathogen, classified in class 435, subclass 6.
- III. Claim 3, drawn to a method of identifying the sequence of an antigen of a cancer cell, classified in class 435, subclass 6.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

Inventions of Groups I, II, and III are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (M.P.E.P. § 806.04, M.P.E.P. § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions are directed to methods having different functions, different effects, and different modes of operation. The function(s)/mode of operation of Group I is to compile a functional gene profile of the host or of the donor organism. The function(s)/mode of operation of Group II is to identify the sequence of the antigen of the pathogen. The function(s)/mode of operation of Group III is to identify the sequence of the antigen of the cancer cell. Thus, Groups I, II, and III have different functions, different effects, and different modes of operation.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above, have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter and the search for required for each Group is not required for the other Group(s), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 C.F.R. § 1.143).
